As a recent subscriber to satellite radio, I have been utterly delighted with the quality and variety of programming available. It is more than worthwhile to pay for such service in light of the wholly inadequate choices available from broadcast radio in my market. Other than public radio, there is nothing worthwhile to hear on the airwaves.

I enjoy having choices and I am more than willing to pay for them. I will not look favorably on having my freedom of choice impaired to benefit the media conglomerates and moguls who dominate broadcast channels.
